

ARTS TALKS: THE WAY FORWARD

ACE CONVERSATIONS WITH OUR CREATIVE COMMUNITY ABOUT LIFE, WORK AND SUCCESS IN THE NEW NORMAL

The Detroit Office of Arts, Culture and Entrepreneurship is partnering with various arts organizations and artists to host a series of creative industry discussions on how to ensure the success of our arts community post-pandemic. We want to hear from artists, arts groups, arts advocates, children's advocates and community leaders on strategies to thrive in the New Normal. We welcome everyone to the first conversation - on business and entrepreneurship and how to help artists value their performance and products. Please register for subsequent conversations based on your area of work. Visit detroitmi.gov/ace for updates on co-sponsors.
